

September 2007
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CodeGreen Participates in "The Greening of New York City Commercial Real Estate" Conference

On Wednesday September 5, 2007 at the Harvard Club in Midtown, CodeGreen Director, Stephen Rizzo, was among the panelists at The Greening of New York City Commercial Real Estate: Making a Profit While Making a Difference conference hosted by Real Estate Media's RealShare Conference Series and Real Estate New York magazine.

Fiona Cousins, Chair of USGBC's New York chapter, delivered the opening address. In addition to Mr. Rizzo, the panel, which was moderated by Robert Friedman, President of GVA Williams, included Steven Winter, of Steven Winter Associates, Nick Stolatis of TIAA-CREF, Steve Piguet, Director of Sustainability at Tishman Speyer, Michael Gubbins of the Albanese Organization, and Laurie Kerr of the Mayor's Office of Long Term Planning and Sustainability.

The conference participants discussed green building solutions for retrofitting existing buildings, which included planning, design and new building materials and systems, as well as cutting-edge projects and the financial implications and benefits of going green. The panel discussion was followed by a brief Q & A session.

About CodeGreen

As a leading sustainable building consultant, CodeGreen is currently working on "greening" the most square footage nationwide. We are distinctive in that we employ a professional staff of LEED accredited professionals, engineers, architects, and land-use attorneys. Our professionals work with building owners, property managers and developers to facilitate and manage green attainment or conversion of existing or new commercial office spaces. As an integral part of the LEED Process, CodeGreen works closely with design teams and building management as the liaison to the USGBC ensuring building owners and developers benefit from cost savings related to rebates and federal/state tax incentive programs.

For Inquiries, please contact Cymone Speed at 212-564-7972 or Cymone@codegreensolutions.com